NOTICE

This concerns students who have missed one or more examination(s) in the just concluded Even Semester University Examination 2022 for both under-graduate and post-graduate courses. We have received communication from some such students regarding re-taking of examination(s) missed due to various reasons.

Please be informed that examination missed due to any reason whatsoever cannot be re-taken under any circumstances. A paper for which the student was absent will be considered to be a back paper under University rules.

Further, non-appearance in 50% or more of the papers during an end-semester final examination would debar the student to be promoted to the next semester. This is for information of all concerned.
